

You've already learned three ways to solve a quadratic equation: graphing, factoring, and completing the square. A fourth way involves a formula. The quadratic formula looks complicated, but with practice, you will find it easy to use. The best thing about the quadratic formula is that it works in every situation.

Hide

Support